English Community Spotlight

In this section, we share what members of the USD English community are doing!

Hugo Werstler has been working fulltime at USD for a little over three years now and has been part of the USD campus community since 2010 as both an undergraduate and graduate student. As the Executive Assistant for the Writing Program, Hugo is tasked with assisting the faculty that teach the undergraduate First Year Writing courses as well as the university's Writing Center. His responsibilities include serving as a liaison for the Writing Program, managing the online system utilized by the Writing Center, and also the coordination and marketing of academic events. He finds the most fulfilling part of his work to be the projects that are done in collaboration with faculty and students in serving the campus community.

Hugo is set to graduate in May with a Master's Degree in Higher Education Leadership and will be working to develop a career as an Academic Administrator, hopefully at USD. His goal is to one day be the next president of the university and promote the ideals and aspirations of the faculty and students that he interacts with on a daily basis.

Outside of work, Hugo is an avid baker of homemade sourdough bread and enjoys spending time outside hiking or indoors writing and watching sitcoms. His future plans include getting married to his fiancé, Sara in June of next year as well as trying to finish his first novel.

My name is Miranda Gonzalez and I am a third year student from Orange County, California. I am a double major in Communication Studies and Sociology with a concentration in Law, Crime and Justice. I am currently working as the Writing Program Assistant (FWS Student Worker) virtually in which I mainly focus on helping with marketing, supporting First Year Writing professors and any other tasks asked of me! I also am currently a virtual Resident Assistant and a member of Student Support Services.

Hi! My name is Claire Duque and I am a Co-Coordinator of the USD Writing Center. As a Coordinator, I help ensure that everything runs as smoothly as possible for our group of thirty consultants and the student writers who use our services. I'm a senior Interdisciplinary Humanities major with an emphasis in English, as well as an Environmental Studies & Policy minor. I am also a guide for our wonderful Outdoor Adventures program on campus! Having such a wide range of study has allowed me to become involved in many departments across campus, though primarily in our fantastic English department.

Emily Jewett, Co-Coordinator of the USD Writing Center, is a senior English major with a concentration in Creative Writing and minor in Political Science. She is part of the Honors Program and president of the English honor society Sigma Tau Delta. She hails from Eugene, Oregon and she misses the rainy Pacific Northwest weather. She hopes to attend a creative writing MFA program next year.

USD Votes!

Let's help increase student voter turnout! The USD Votes Campaign is working to make USD a national leader in voter registration, education, and turnout.

- The USD Votes student team has created a two-minute video (posted on their YouTube channel) that goes over some last minute voting reminders: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Wb9fgO\_Fu8w&feature=youtu.be. Please share!
- While many USD students are in San Diego this fall, many are not. Voting rules and deadlines vary by state. USD Votes and other great organizations have compiled handy lists of the rules.
- At this point, many registration periods have closed--but not all! Anyone in California can register and vote in person up until election day itself.
- All registered California voters have been mailed a ballot. Ballots can be returned by mail until November 3, or dropped off early at designated locations (in San Diego these are mostly county libraries).
- In San Diego, there will be four days of in-person voting at large super-poll sites beginning on Halloween. We do NOT have an in-person voting site on campus.

- Saturday is VOTE EARLY day, and students across the country are being asked to either vote in person (allowed in many states) or mail their ballot. In many states, ballots must be received by the registrar by November 3, which makes mailing it early very important.
- Every year, more than 1% of ballots in the nation are rejected, mostly for missed deadlines and non-matching signatures. Every voter should read the instructions carefully to make sure your vote is counted.

For more information visit the USD Votes website www.sandiego.edu/vote and follow @usdvotescampaign on Instagram. To get more information about USD Votes, you can also email Dr. Casey Dominguez at caseydominguez@sandiego.edu.

2020 Writing Competition: "Alone in the Time of Covid-19"

Exisle Publishing just opened the door to a new writing competition judged by Exisle Publishing editors.

Offering a monetary prize as well as various publishing opportunities, this non-fiction writing challenge seeks to give voice to writers who have experienced loneliness during the Covid-19 pandemic. Writing about our experiences during this time is an important way to connect, to help others, and to come to terms with the challenges we face. As with all Exisle Academy writing challenges, we are open to hearing from all writers, experienced or novice, who feel that they have something relevant to share about this important issue.

Submitting your writing for this competition is free of charge, and submission instructions can be found at: <https://exisleacademy.com/alone-2020-writing-competition/>.*

Alumni News

Alumna Publishes Debut Poetry Collection

This summer, McKenna Jardine Christian, 2020 (English, with Creative Writing emphasis) published her debut collection of poetry, Treading the Clothesline. Jardine Christian describes this collection as an embodiment of ‘poetry as a conversation’ with a title which represents the questions poetry asks. Such questions are the clothesline, and the way to tread upon this clothesline without falling (as if the writer is an acrobat walking a tight rope) is to steep these questions in concrete images, experiences, and conversations. To connect with McKenna or to inquire about purchasing Treading the Clothesline, contact McKenna at mchristian@sandiego.edu.

Congratulations, McKenna!

Alumna Opens Pop Up Bookstore

Chelsea McLin, 2017 (English, with Creative Writing emphasis) just recently opened her own small pop up bookstore, Jubilee Books, and recently had her first pop up! Check it out at: www.jubileebooks.shop — “At Jubilee, we believe in celebrating voices from all walks of life, especially the ones that go unheard. Support our mission and purchase a book today!” (in addition to books, looks like there are some spiffy apparel, accessories, and book tote bag items, too!) Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/BooksJubilee>.

Congratulations, Chelsea!

Alumna at New Role at University of Denver

Amelia (Molly) Gentile-Mathew, 2014 (English) and her spouse Amanda are still living and working in the Denver area; Amelia has recently made the transition from her work in program coordination at a nonprofit serving survivors of sexual assault (The Blue Bench), to a new role at the University of Denver in the Office of Teaching & Learning as an Instructional Designer. She frequently collaborates on projects with Amanda, who is serving as the Acting Director of Inclusion & Diversity at the local Red Rocks Community College, guiding the school through difficult but critical conversations around race, equity, and reparations.

Faculty News

Faculty Writing Retreat

On Friday, October 23, 2020 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., the Center for Educational Excellence (CEE) has organized a Faculty Writing Retreat. Join us for a day (or part of the day) in the Laguna mountains where quietude and nature's beauty will inspire you to think, read, and write. The Desert View Picnic Area (<https://www.fs.usda.gov/recarea/cleveland/recarea/?recid=47434>) provides socially distant picnic tables and hiking trails along with sunshine and shade.

Check out our Writing Retreat program page (<https://www.sandiego.edu/cee/programs/writing-retreats.php>) for more information, including details on what to bring and directions on how to get there.

No registration required. The CEE team will be onsite during each retreat to answer questions, buy your parking pass, or just wave and welcome you. Sponsored by the CEE.

NTT Connect!

The next NTT Connect! is on Thursday, October 22, 2020 from 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Zoom. Miss seeing colleagues on campus? Feeling disconnected? We're here to help! Join a drop in Zoom session with our Adjunct Liaison this semester to connect, share or vent. No agenda, no pressure. As a bonus, each time you take the time to stop in, you'll earn an entry to win $100 toward a teaching expense of your choice! Join any session using the Zoom link found at: <https://www.sandiego.edu/cee/detail.php?focus=78371>. Sponsored by the Center for Educational Excellence (CEE).

There are additional dates of NTT Connect! on:

- Tuesday, November 3, 2020, 3:00 p.m.
- Friday, November 6, 2020, 2:00 p.m

For more information about NTT Connect! or other adjunct essentials visit our web page: <https://www.sandiego.edu/cee/teaching-resources/adjunct-essentials.php>.
