Copley Library Workshops

Check out the upcoming workshops at Copley Library! All meet in the Seminar Room.

- Thursday, Oct 4, 5:00-6:00pm: First Generation Students: Your Library & Academic Success. Attention First Generation students! Come find out how Copley Library's many services and resources can support your academic success from freshman year through graduation. This interactive workshop will focus on library services and building students' research skills for any discipline. Light refreshments will be provided. Presenter: Catherine Paolillo.
- Thursday, Oct 11, 12:30-1:30pm: Master MLA Style. Learn about the Modern Language Association (MLA) citation style according to the last edition of the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers (8th). Bring your questions. Presenter: Hugh Burkhart.
- Thursday, Oct 18, 12:30-1:30pm: Visual Communication: Producing Engaging & Dynamic Research. Today, we live in an image saturated society often referred to as a visual culture. Text-based information literacy instruction has long been taught in libraries, but now is the time to teach the unique skills required to be "visually literate". During this workshop we will cover how to efficiently find quality images, evaluate sources, use images effectively, discuss ethical concerns, copyright, and the critical analysis of visual materials. Presenter: Millicent Fullmer.
- Thursday, Oct 25, 12:30-1:30pm: APA the Easy Way. How do you write a paper in APA format? Walk away knowing how to write a paper in APA style and how to incorporate cited references. Presenter: Michael Epstein.
- Thursday, Oct 25, 5:00-6:00pm: Preventing Plagiarism. When should I be citing sources? What is plagiarism? Can it be unintentional? In this interactive workshop we will define plagiarism and help you with citing sources in your research papers. All questions are welcome! Presenter: Amy Besnoy.
- Thursday, Nov 1, 12:30-1:30pm: News, Spin, and Fake News. What is spin? What is fake news? Is there a difference? This interactive and engaging workshop will explore the difference between the two and help participants develop the tools to distinguish between fact-based stories and fabrications. Presenters: Hugh Burkhart and Michael Epstein.

Where Are They Now: Kate Erickson

Kate Erickson, English Major and USD alumni (2005), is featured in a recent episode of Michelle Weinstein's podcast, "Success Unfiltered." Weinstein, known as "The Pitch Queen", has interviewed a variety of entrepreneurs, from successful businessmen to former contestants of Shark Tank, and her goal is to help fellow entrepreneurs realize that they are not alone in what they are going through. During her interview, Kate speaks to the importance of facing and overcoming rejection in one's professional career. If people allow the fear of rejection to rule their lives, they will never take the risks necessary to find meaningful success in their work.

To be featured in Michelle's podcast is an honor, and it is a testament to Kate's hard work and determination that she has achieved success in the business, Entrepreneurs on Fire, that she shares with John Lee Dumas. Kate's interview, "Why Trusting Your Gut Can Increase Sales" (Episode 34), can be found at iTunes at the following link: <https://itunes.apple.com/us/podcast/034-why-trusting-your-gut-can-increase-sales-kate-erickson/id1271423584?i=1000400052698&mt=2>.

Kate has an audio blog podcast of her own called "Kate's Take," in which she discusses how she came to be involved in Entrepreneurs on Fire and what she went through to get to her current place in life. This audio blog podcast can be found at the following link: <https://www.eofire.com/audio-blog/>.

Congratulations on your achievements, Kate!

English alumni: Send us your updates & photos! Please email to English@sandiego.edu. We look forward to hearing from you. Thank you—

Faculty & Staff News

Paul Evans at "Who Wrote Shakespeare?" Panel

Paul Evans, English Department, Digital Humanities Fellow, and Technical Director, Tudor Plays Project, presented on the panel DH Colloquium Series: "Who Wrote Shakespeare?" and Other Big Problems: Authorship Attribution for Everyone on September 24, 2018.

Recent developments in computational authorship attribution have identified Shakespeare as the author of previously unattributed plays. USD's Digital Humanities Studio currently has three authorship attribution projects running: on Medieval Latin legal texts; on anonymous plays from the court of Henry VII; and on 18th-century writings potentially connected to Edmund Burke. Also on the panel: Brian Clack, PhD, Director, Humanities Center, Professor, Philosophy; and Jordan Matuszewski, Computer Science Major.

Dr. Sara Hasselbach at "Idea of Goodness" Panel

Sara Hasselbach, English Department and Humanities Center, presented on "The Idea of Goodness Series" panel on September 25, 2018 in the Humanities Center.

In the words of Mother Rosalie Hill, "Beauty will attract them, goodness will lead them but the truth will hold them." Having completed our examination of the concept of beauty, we turn this semester to an investigation into "The Idea of Goodness", approached from a range of perspectives and disciplines. Discussion panel also included: Derrick Cartwright, PhD, associate professor and director of University Galleries; and Brian R. Clack, PhD, professor of philosophy and director of the Humanities Center.

Dr. Irene Williams Speaks on Frederick Douglass Panel

Irene Williams, Faculty, spoke on the Frederick Douglass: 200 Years of Influence (1818-2018) panel along with Dr. Corey Barnes (Philosophy) in the Humanities Center on September 19, 2018.

The year 1818 saw the birth of foundational thinker Frederick Douglass. Abolitionist and social reformer Frederick Douglass writes in 1864 that "the moral growth of a great nation requires reflection, as well as observation" in response to discriminatory racial policies that he seeks to dismantle. A faculty panel on this extraordinary theorist examines his lasting influence.

Academic Technology Services Offers Blackboard Consulting

Blackboard

In talking with many faculty, we heard an overwhelming request to host extended support to assist with Blackboard, and we heard you loud and clear! As a result, we're piloting the extended consulting hours on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 4pm - 7pm starting 9/4/18 thru 9/26/18. This extended support will allow us to work faculty one on one on teaching and learning projects and the integration of technology into the curriculum. Schedule consultation time on any of the following support services: We ask that you please schedule time with us as needed on our consultation calendar: <https://calendar.google.com/calendar/selfsched?sstoken=UUUyTlpkWIA2SWdQfGRIZmF1bHR8NjU1MTQ1MzY1MT4MzJiNmVjNGI2NDZmYzA2MTMhMWQ>.

The consultation calendar will let you select 30-minute blocks of time, so please schedule time around your needs. Since this requires a shift in our regular schedule of operation, we ask that you schedule your consultation at least 24-48 hours prior to meeting with us, and allow 12 hours for any cancellations you may encounter. Thank you for allowing us to serve you, we look forward to working with you! <http://www.sandiego.edu/its/iteam/blackboard/>.

USD Grad Theatre: Julius Caesar

The Old Globe and USD Shiley Graduate Theatre Program Present Julius Caesar over Saturday, October 20, 2018, through Sunday, October 28, 2018, at the Old Globe Theatre. Directed by Allegra Libonati.

Though Caesar is beloved by the people of Rome, after his latest military triumph, senators Brutus and Cassius sense a dictator in the making. But Brutus is an honorable man, so he faces a wrenching decision: stage a coup for the sake of his country, or stay loyal to his old friend Caesar. The Globe's intimate arena stage gives you an up-close seat for Shakespeare's masterful tale of cunning diplomacy, fast-shifting alliances, and the unpredictable consequences of betrayal. The classical actors of tomorrow, now training in The Old Globe and University of San Diego Shiley Graduate Theatre Program, expertly perform one of the world's great plays.

A joint venture of The Globe and USD, the Shiley Graduate Theatre Program nationally recruits seven students each year to participate in an intensive two-year course of graduate study in classical theatre. Private funding for the Master of Fine Arts in Theatre program has been contributed through a generous endowment established by Donald and Darlene Shiley. Additional support for the program is provided by the Dorothy Brown Endowment Fund and the Louis Yager Cantwell Foundation.

Tickets: $19 general admission; $16 USD faculty and staff; $8 USD students with valid ID. For USD discounted tickets call The Old Globe Box Office at 619-23-GLOBE (619-234-5623) or visit www.theoldglobe.org.

On Social Networks and Gendered Fashions

Monday, October 1, 5:30 p.m. in French Parlor, Founders: On Social Networks & Gendered Fashions: The Album Phenomenon in 19th Century France and Spain. Lecture by Dr. Jeannette Acevedo Rivera. The album phenomenon developed in France and Spain and lasted throughout the entire nineteenth century. Albums were books with blank pages in which the owner collected contributions in the form of poetry, drawings, and music scores. These works were created for album owners by friends, acquaintances, and sometimes even suitors, and were meant to pay tribute to them. It is possible to imagine the album as a space of intense social and economic rivalry, in which owners of the books competed with one another to obtain the most luxurious books, and to fill them with the greatest number of entries from renowned artists. Similarly, contributors implicitly competed with one another to create the highest quality entries and contribute to albums that advanced their status as artists.

Mel Freilicher & Jim Miller

Sept 26th, 2018
Room LL430 • 7pm

American Dream (2017) is the third book in Freilicher's trilogy of experimental historical fiction. He teaches at UCSD and for 15 years was editor of Crawl Out Your Window. SDSU Professor Stephen-Paul Martin says of American Dream, "Within the nimble universe of Freilicher's language, we see these people as we've never seen them—as people. But also as subversive signifiers in an unprecedented aesthetic design."

Miller's latest, Last Days in Ocean Beach (2018), features a colorful cast of characters including a scientist determined to raise the alarm about climate change. Miller teaches at San Diego City College and was co-author of the classic Under the Perfect Sun: The San Diego Tourists Never See (2003), as well as the novels Flash (2010) and Drift (2007). Of his latest, Bill McKibben says "Jim Miller manages to find real warmth in the cold light cast by our apocalyptic moment; this is a rare instance of actually dealing with, instead of attempting to 'fix,' the cascade of emotions and ideas that naturally come from the immensity of the challenges around us."
