NEW PARENT AND FAMILY CALENDAR

The Office of Parent Relations Welcomes You!

As a Torero parent and a new member of the USD community, it is our goal to make sure that you are aware of the services our office provides.

Renda Quinn '86
Director

Welcome to the University of San Diego Torero family! The Office of Parent Relations is your resource as you transition into the USD Torero Community. As the Director of Parent Relations, I partner with parents and families to support and enhance the student experience. Our office manages the Parents Association Board and provides opportunities for parents to connect with the university through regional events such as Summer Send Offs and fundraising events that support student scholarships. Together we work to build a strong and supportive USD Torero community. This calendar will help you prepare and support your student through his or her first year at USD. Read through the calendar to become familiar with important dates, helpful tips and university holidays. We look forward to assisting you and making your lifelong Torero experience memorable for the entire family.

Karina Viaud '02
Assistant Director

Welcome new parents and families! As assistant director, I am here to involve and connect you to the university through a wealth of opportunities. Our office plans events such as Family Orientation and Move-In Weekend, Grandparents Weekend, Homecoming and Family Weekend, and regional events. We work with volunteers through the Parent Ambassador Program and keep you informed through the calendar, the Parent e-Newsletter and updates on Facebook at www.facebook.com/USDParents. By keeping you informed, we hope to facilitate a strong collaboration for your student's success.

Although students are thinking about what it will mean to become a Torero, it's a transition for parents and families, too. This is the time to talk to each other about expectations such as communication while away, finances, academics and social life. Encourage your student to check the MySanDiego New Student Portal regularly for updates.

Parents of freshmen, Aug. 15 is the last day to pre-order tickets for the freshman New Student and Parent Barbecue. For information, go to www.sandiego.edu/orientation

The excitement is building ...

... and a time of change is coming! Your student is excited about this new chapter, but nervous about making friends. You're proud to see your young adult emerge, but wondering what your role will be. Communication is the best advice parents of alumni will give you. Talk about preparing for move-in and the start of classes. Ask how your student is feeling, and be prepared to listen. Coach and guide your student to set goals for the start of the semester. USD staff and resources are available to support you and your student.

Checklist

- To help make healthy choices regarding alcohol use, all new freshmen students are required to complete a two-part alcohol education (MyStudentBody); part 1 is due Aug. 21. www.sandiego.edu/chwp.
- Use the mailing from the dean of students to guide discussions with your student about making good choices.
- Students with on-going psychological or chronic health concerns are encouraged to contact the appropriate wellness unit prior to the start of school. www.sandiego.edu/wellness.
- Encourage your student to get to know their resident assistant (RA) and preceptorial assistant (PA) during Torero Days and beyond — these students can be great mentors and resources. www.sandiego.edu/cas/academics/advising
- Review the Torero Days schedule for students and parents — note specific move-in time and the differences between the student and parent programs and encourage student participation. www.sandiego.edu/parents

Students are settling into the new academic year, attending classes, managing assignments and free time, and connecting to the campus community. When possible, connect with your students to discuss their progress and encourage their involvement in the campus community.

The home stretch and maybe a taste of home

As the semester winds down, exams, projects and papers are on the minds of students. It can be overwhelming. Academic resources can help, as can getting rest, exercise and healthy meals. Some families are looking forward, with anxiety and excitement, to their students visit during the Thanksgiving holiday. College parents report this as the first time they may see changes in their student — visible signs of new independence. Talking about the visit, asking what your student wants to do, and being flexible with your expectations can help.

Checklist

- Encourage your student to get involved with a club or organization. Information on leadership roles for next year will become available this month. Some require applications, interviews and elections.
www.sandiego.edu/associatedstudents/organizations
- This is Women's Health Month. The Student Health Center offers preventative health services and can administer vaccinations.
www.sandiego.edu/healthcenter
- Students meet with their preceptor/advisor to register for spring semester courses.
www.sandiego.edu/onestop
- Residential Life staff will be on duty in each residential area during the Thanksgiving break. Students should notify their RA if they plan to stay on campus.
- Students interested in an alternative spring break immersion trip should contact University Ministry for details and deadlines.

Another month of transition

It's the end of the semester and many students feel the stress of completing academic work and exams. The first semester serves as a learning experience in many ways, including how to handle college-level academics. Students returning home for the extended winter break will be excited about the comforts of home and will want to enjoy their new independence. Anxiety and even sadness may arise about leaving USD friends. Families should be ready to communicate and compromise holiday plans and time at home.

A time for reflection and looking ahead

This is a perfect time to reflect on the fall semester and talk about plans and expectations for the spring semester. Discuss what's ahead — roommate choices and living options, declaring a major and exploring student leadership positions. This time of reflection is the student's opportunity to strategize and approach the spring semester with a concrete plan to reconnect to the university.

A fresh start in a familiar community

The second semester can bring a greater sense of confidence and connection. Students still searching for a sense of belonging should venture out and connect to the community. Time management, prioritizing and conquering procrastination will help tackle demands of the semester ahead. Campus services can help develop strategies to be successful if students are overwhelmed. This may be a time to reevaluate the student's financial needs, based on last semester, and adjust available resources.

Checklist

A break from reality, but time to look ahead

This month offers a much anticipated break from the demanding semester schedule. Students may have expectations about college spring break — and family expectations may differ. After the break, the semester moves quickly as only eight weeks of classes remain. This is the time for students to plan for summer jobs, look ahead to classes and on-campus living next year and getting involved. These plans, combined with academic demands, can be overwhelming. Continue to support, encourage and coach for success!

Checklist

- Encourage students to find a healthy balance of academics, social activities, recreation and relaxation. www.sandiego.edu/wellness
- Discuss next year's living options — housing sign up information will be mailed to families and students. www.sandiego.edu/residentaillife
- This is Men's Health Month. The Student Health Center offers preventative health services. www.sandiego.edu/wellness
- Free programs, events, guest speakers and concerts are constantly available on campus. Students should take advantage of these great opportunities. www.sandiego.edu/associatedstudents
- Spring break is a time to relax and reenergize for the remainder of the semester. Discuss the consequences of risky or unwise choices during spring break. www.sandiego.edu/wellness

Spring fever means getting outside... and going green!

Students are juggling many priorities. Plans for summer, next semester's classes, and housing options take precedence; but healthy habits, academics and social plans compete for attention, too. Continue your role of support and guidance to encourage focus and balance.

USD is a leader in the region with sustainability efforts and education. Students, parents, and families can all "Be Blue, Go Green."

Checklist

- Give your student a boost and send a final exams care package! Order through USD Torero Store. www.usdtoreros.com
- This month, students register for fall semester courses. They will meet with preceptors/advisors to plan. USD offers many international study opportunities and students may want to keep future plans in mind when selecting courses in coordination with classes offered abroad.
- Academic pressures may be high this month. Students sometimes cope with stress by turning to alcohol, drugs, or other unhealthy choices. The Center for Health and Wellness Promotion can help. www.sandiego.edu/wellness
- Students can enjoy a variety of Earth Week events. Read the latest efforts for sustainability and responsible practices at www.sandiego.edu/gogreen.

TORERO TIPS

To plan ahead for the 2012-13 year and view the academic calendar, go to www.sandiego.edu/academiccalendar

Congratulations — you made it!

Another time of transition, May is a stressful, exciting and busy time on campus. Many year-end celebrations and events are planned, as students wrap up academic work, think about packing up or storing belongings and wonder whether friendships will survive the summer break. Help students focus on academic priorities while realizing the other concerns are important too. Think about your student's return to the home and family, as he or she will bring home new independence. Again, communication is key!

Checklist

- Encourage students to utilize campus academic support resources and meet with professors to prepare for final exams and projects. www.sandiego.edu/usdcss
- During finals, some students make unhealthy choices about eating, caffeine sources and potential misuse of prescription stimulants. Reinforce healthy choices for your student, such as ensuring at least seven hours of sleep at night. www.sandiego.edu/wellness
- Career Services can help students who are seeking summer employment. www.sandiego.edu/careers
- 24-hour quiet hours will be enforced by the Residential Life staff during finals. Information will be distributed about moving out of the residence hall room. www.sandiego.edu/residentiallife
- Celebrate student successes — academically, socially, physically and otherwise. Commend students for seeking out resources, solving their own problems and gaining independence.

To get information about summer recreation opportunities, go to www.sandiego.edu/campusrecreation

New opportunities and challenges on the horizon

Time to reconnect and welcome your student back home, if only temporarily. Watch and listen as your student reflects on the past year, noting accomplishments and planning for new challenges. Students will balance reconnecting with old friends and maintaining USD friendships. Make sure your student is ready to take advantage of opportunities next year. Students who remain focused on academics — while making use of programs, resources and groups designed to enhance learning and growth — have a great second year!

Checklist

- Encourage students to learn about a variety of campus involvement opportunities — research with professors, community service-learning, volunteer opportunities, Greek Life, campus jobs, and tutoring that can enhance their experience. Selecting one or two areas of involvement will build connection and leadership skills. www.sandiego.edu/associatedstudents
- Special events are planned next year as part of your student's second year experience. Students should look for postings when back on campus.
- The excitement will build again as the Fall 2012 semester approaches. Take advantage of the summer to ensure key conversations take place.
- Parents, consider enhancing your own Torero experience. Become a Parent Ambassador and be part of the USD community by volunteering your time, talent and treasures. www.sandiego.edu/parents
