Department Chairs

Job Description

Contract: The Department Chair has a ten-month contract. Appointments are typically for three years, and a formal evaluation of the chair occurs the second year of the three-year appointment. Terms are renewable.

Appointment of Department Chairs: After securing recommendations from individual faculty members in the department, the Dean will appoint the Chair.

When necessary, the Dean appoints Acting Chairs, after consultation with the affected chair. An acting department chair may also be appointed for prolonged absences from campus (more than two weeks) by the Chair or during short absences when key recommendations are required.

Teaching: The Chair's teaching responsibilities are usually two courses per year. This may vary depending on accreditation needs and program approval responsibilities. The Chair may delegate some duties, and sharing of service responsibilities, which will vary according to workload.

Program areas within the department may have lead faculty appointed by the Dean on the recommendation of the chair.

Job Description: See the specific Department Chair job description for specific duties.

1. Candidates place value in academic excellence, as demonstrated through their persistence and by following through on commitments.
2. Candidates demonstrate through verbal and non-verbal observable behavior, the belief that all individuals can learn and succeed.
3. Candidates place value in self-reflection, as evidenced by active engagement in reflective activities or critical analysis of one’s practice.
4. Candidate place value in critical inquiry, as demonstrated by the use of higher order thinking skills applied to a wide array of investigative pursuits.
5. Candidates demonstrate community values, as evidence by the use of theory and practice to effectively collaborate with students, family members, community members, and colleagues.
6. Candidates demonstrate belief in service, as evidence by engagement in professional and community related service activities.
7. Candidates place value in diversity, as evidenced by interactions with or decisions made relating to students, family members, community members, and colleagues.
8. Candidates advocate for social justice, as evidenced by verbal or non-verbal observable behavior.
9. Candidates adhere to the professional code of ethics for their field, as evidenced by verbal or non-verbal observable behavior.
10. Candidates apply fairness in decision-making to meet the educational needs of all students in a caring, non-discriminatory, and equitable manner, as evidenced in observable behavior of the candidate.
SOLES Vision and Mission Statement

SOLES aspires to be a vibrant and diverse community for innovation, cultivating academic excellence and developing socially responsible global learners and leaders.

Vision Statement

We believe that education for human service must have as its foundation a vision of enhancing human dignity and the quality of life. To do so, human service professionals must focus on moral perspectives in their professional and community lives. The faculty and staff of the School of Leadership and Education Sciences seek to impart this vision to our students.

Mission Statement

It is our responsibility to prepare students with the professional knowledge, skills, and ethical perspectives they will need for effective leadership and practice in a diverse society. We seek to become, and encourage our students to become, life-long learners engaged in scholarly inquiry, research, and professional development. We value professional and community service and encourage such service by our students.

To implement our mission, the faculty enriches all programs and course offerings with the values, concepts, and themes that we believe will help students become ethical, civic-minded and committed leaders in their chosen fields.

INITIATIVE #1: ADDRESSING SOCIETAL CHALLENGES

As a prominent education and human services school we must confront important human challenges. Through our Centers and Departments, we marshal academic expertise from across the disciplinary spectrum to produce research and programming of contemporary social relevance. Using evidence-based practices SOLES is uniquely positioned to contribute to the dialogue surrounding the challenges of:

- educating our citizenry for the workplace of the 21st century,
- meeting the leadership and management needs of the nonprofit and public sectors,
- addressing the social-emotional needs of our community through clinical work, and
- addressing teaching and learning issues locally, nationally and globally.

Expand the Reach and Impact of SOLES’ Centers and Institutes: the Institute for Nonprofit Education and Research’s (INER) Caster Center for Nonprofit and Philanthropic Research, the Center for Education Policy and Law (CEPAL), the Global Center, the Educational Leadership Development Academy (ELDA), the Leadership Institute (LI), and the Mobile Technology Learning Center (MTLC)

- Create collaborative solutions to societal challenges.
- Drive debate and bring media attention to policy issues in our respective sectors.
- Serve as a community resource for information and research services connecting the community to SOLES.
- Elevate collaboration between faculty and students across SOLES’ disciplines and across USD.
- Train doctoral students in research and evaluation methods to address important community needs.

- Global Center: Connections and Impact
  - Expand connections with existing partnerships, Ashoka campuses, and NGOs (e.g., Edify, Save the Children).
  - In collaboration with USD, establish at least one SOLES initiative in a strategic location abroad.
  - Expand research opportunities abroad for students and faculty.

- Engage and Influence the Greater San Diego Community
  - Strengthen our high profile annual conferences, speaker series and symposia in order to enhance the vibrancy of our environment and to stimulate debate in the community.
  - Provide services to the community through symposia, workshops, projects, events, and continuing education.
  - Provide additional opportunities for influential scholars to visit SOLES for extended stays.

INITIATIVE #2: TEACHING EXCELLENCE

Innovation is in the DNA of SOLES. For example, we created the first Leadership Studies doctoral program in the nation; we were the first education school in the nation to require that all students have an international experience; and, we have students from all three departments conducting Action Research... projects annually. SOLES and USD are nimble and thus we are able to be highly responsive to our community and stakeholders in offering new programs, courses and certificates.

Our ability to assume a more influential leadership role in the sectors we serve, is directly related to the quality of our teaching efforts, which have a direct impact on all of our programs and certificates – undergraduate, graduate, doctoral and continuing professional education.

Expand Experiential Learning and Reflective Practice: In particular, we offer experiential learning opportunities to students through our practicum and fieldwork courses, internships, the Leadership Institute, the Leadership Conversation Project, action research projects and our work with pedagogies such as PBL and lesson study. The substantial international research and study opportunities available to our students are also evidence of our leadership in experiential education. Going forward, we will:

- Deepen commitment to extending and creating additional opportunities; further integrating them in all our academic programs.
- Promote us, both internally and externally, as a laboratory for innovative pedagogies that highlight the connection between theory and practice and emphasize experiential learning.

Increase Teaching Excellence: All of our programs are well regarded, and our intent is to increase their stature. In recognition of the pivotal role that faculty will play in achieving that goal, we will:

- Increase support and incentives for developing excellent courses and teaching materials.
- Provide incentives and opportunities for faculty to innovate and incubate new ideas in their respective disciplines and professions.

Attract Top Faculty and Students: The quality of our pedagogic efforts depends on our ability to bring together innovative teachers and highly qualified students, both of whom have a wide range of experiences, languages and cultural perspectives. Therefore, achieving teaching excellence at SOLES requires that we:

- Attract and retain a diverse faculty.
- Attract and retain a diverse student body.
- Prepare students to work in diverse communities.
- Increase our endowment in order to support recurring scholarships and additional assistantships.

INITIATIVE #3: INTELLECTUAL INFLUENCE

A vibrant intellectual environment is essential for any prominent school within a university. One of our key roles is to expand our influence in the local, regional, national and international community. The core intellectual capital of SOLES is nurtured within our academic departments. Our ability to assume a leadership role in education, the nonprofit and public sectors and mental health community is directly related to the quality and influence of our scholarship. This scholarship, in turn, directly affects the school’s intellectual environment.

The current intellectual environment at SOLES is strong. Our research output is increasing and becoming nationally and internationally recognized. Some faculty support and incentives for research accomplishments are institutionalized. Building upon this foundation, more can now be done to strengthen the intellectual environment in SOLES.

Increase Faculty and Student Scholarship

- Increase the number of professorships, chairs, fellowships, and additional research support.
• Increase support to students to attend professional conferences, and be involved in research projects, and professional associations.
• Support cross-departmental research seminars in, for example, action research or quantitative analysis that will deepen the impact and generality of our research.

Increase Faculty Grants from Private Foundations
• Develop strong and purposeful connections to private foundations that fund in SOLES’ program areas.
• Provide grant-writing support to faculty.
• Offer focused, timely professional development on grant writing particularly targeting foundation grants.

INITIATIVE #4: PROMOTE SUSTAINABILITY

In our role as Higher Education professionals, it is our responsibility to advance sustainability and sustainable practices in our business operations and the education of our students. In collaboration with the University-wide sustainability efforts, we, in SOLES, are committed to developing practices and policies to reduce the carbon footprint of SOLES’ students, faculty, staff, and facilities. We support curriculum and pedagogy on the topic of sustainability.

Goal 1: Increase awareness of sustainability practices by SOLES staff, students, and faculty. Actions and Metrics:
• Announce sustainable best practices and regional efforts at each SOLES faculty meeting.
• Post sustainability tips on SOLES’ Sala screens monthly or more often.
• Maintain mixed recycling posters at recycling bins. Replace as needed at the time of each committee meeting.

Goal 2: Identify and suggest best practices to incorporate sustainability topics across the curriculum.
Actions and Metrics:
• The committee will add a sustainability statement to the SOLES syllabus template.
  o Each year, the number of syllabi that reflect an emphasis on sustainable practices and/or topics will increase.
• The committee will highlight best practices and post them on our website.
  o Each year, the percent of syllabi including a statement on sustainability will increase.
• Faculty will decrease the distribution of paper syllabi.
  o The number of syllabi available electronically will increase each year.
  o The Sustainability Committee will conduct an annual survey of practices across SOLES that will include an item related to distribution of paper syllabi.

Goal 3: Advance sustainable practices in SOLES’ operations.
Actions and Metrics
• SOLES will increase paperless practices and electronic forms processing.
  o The Sustainability Committee will conduct an annual survey of practices across SOLES.
• SOLES will support and engage in university and community Earth Month activities.

The Sustainability Committee will sponsor one or more specific events each year related to increasing sustainable practices.
