

New Faculty 2018-2019

Jonathan Anomaly, PhD
Department of Philosophy
Academic/Research Interest(s):
Ethics of synthetic biology, modeling collective action problems

---

Adam Boocher, PhD
Department of Mathematics
Academic/Research Interest(s):
Commutative algebra and computational algebraic geometry

Colin Campbell, PhD
School of Business, Marketing
Academic/Research Interest(s):
Social media marketing, online video advertising, native advertising

---

Millicent "Millie" Fullmer, MSLIS
Copley Library
Academic/Research Interest(s):
Visual literacy, digital humanities, Art and Art History

New Faculty 2018-2019

Ariel Jurow Kleiman (Stevenson), JD

School of Law

Academic/Research Interest(s):

Tax law & policy, state and local tax, welfare policy

---

T.J. Tallie, PhD

Department of History

Academic/Research Interest(s):

African history, British imperialism, settler colonialism, Zulu language and culture, critical ethnic studies, queer theory, gender and women's studies

---

Evan Crawford, PhD

Department of Political Science and International Relations

Academic/Research Interest(s):

elections, state and local politics, survey research, education policy

Jason Campbell, PhD

School of Business, Economics

Academic/Research Interest(s):

International Trade, Applied Microeconomics, and Applied Econometrics

New Faculty 2018-2019

Marni LaFleur, PhD

Department of Anthropology

Academic/Research Interest(s):

I am a biological anthropologist and I study lemur behavioral ecology and conservation in Madagascar. I enjoy teaching about human diversity and evolution, as well as primate behavior and biodiversity conservation.

Janel Ortiz, PhD

Department of Biology

Academic/Research Interest(s):

Animal Behavior, Avian & Small Mammal Ecology, Conservation Education for K-12 and Undergraduates, Citizen Science

---

Zhenhua Chen, PhD

School of Business, Accounting

Academic/Research Interest(s):

Financial Accounting and Reporting; Political Economy

---

Amy Buchmann, PhD

Department of Mathematics

Academic/Research Interest(s):

I work in applied mathematics and am particularly interested in computational bio fluids

New Faculty 2018-2019

George Bryan Cornwall, PhD, MBA, PEng
School of Engineering

Academic/Research Interest(s):

Biomechanics, biomaterials, biomedical engineering, mechanical engineering, innovation in medical devices and musical instruments, entrepreneurship, design engineering, medical device design, block chain in medicine, humanitarian engineering

Aarynn Jones, MArch
Department of AA&AH

Academic/Research Interest(s): architecture, drawing, editing, and production

Melissa Gibbons, PhD
School of Engineering

Academic/Research Interest(s):

My primary academic interest within mechanical engineering is in solid mechanics, which includes the statics, strength of materials, and finite element analysis courses offered by the department. I am also interested in dynamics, kinematics, and vibrations. My research is focused on biomechanics applications within solid mechanics. I use numerical tools such as finite element models and mathematical models to study the micro- and macro-scale effects of external forces on the human body.

Specific applications have included the effects of blast loading to the thorax and blunt impact to the skull and the effect on the brain.

Tiffany Stewart, PhD
Department of Chemistry/Biochemistry

Academic/Research Interest(s): I am a synthetic organic chemist who study phosphine directed C-H borylation reaction and atmospheric mechanisms.

New Faculty 2018-2019

Channon S. Miller, PhD

Department of History

Academic/Research Interest(s):

African American Studies, African American Women's History, Traditions of Black Women's Resistance, Black Feminism, Critical Race and Gender Theory

Philip Gamaghelyan, PhD

School of Peace Studies

Academic/Research Interest(s): He works in the post- Soviet states, as well as Turkey, Syria, and other conflict regions. His research is focused on the politics of memory in conflict contexts as well as on the critical evaluation and design of conflict resolution interventions.

---

Michele Watkins, PhD

Department of Theology and Religious Studies

Academic/Research Interest(s): Systemic Theology and Historical Theology

---

Jamall Calloway, PhD

Department of Theology and Religious Studies

Academic/Research Interest(s): writes on topics concerning race, justice, faith, hope and redemption; Race, Ethnicity, Systemic Theology, and Black & Womanist Theology

New Faculty 2018-2019

Catherine Paolillo, MSLIS
Copley Library

Leah Christensen, JD
School of Law
Academic/Research Interest(s): Legal Research and Writing, Legal Reading, Professional Responsibility, Legal Pedagogy, Lawyering Skills, and Negotiations.

Farrah Karapetian, MFA
Department of AA&AH
Academic/Research Interest(s): works primarily in cameraless photography, incorporating multiple mediums in her process including sculpture, theatre, drawing, creative nonfiction, and social practice; Sculptural and Performative mediums
