The screenshot shows the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Consular Affairs website. The page is titled "Alerts and Warnings" and is part of the "Before You Go" section. It features a navigation menu with options like "Your U.S. Passport", "Before You Go", "Country Information", "While Abroad", and "Emergencies". The main content area is divided into two columns: "Travel Warnings" (marked with a red 'i' icon) and "Travel Alerts" (marked with a yellow triangle icon). The "Travel Warnings" section explains that these are issued for countries with unstable governments, civil war, or frequent terrorist attacks. The "Travel Alerts" section explains that these are issued for short-term events like elections, strikes, or health alerts. To the right, there is a "Learn About Your Destination" search box and an "Enroll in STEP" button. At the bottom, there is a "Refine by Country" search box and a list of recent warnings, including "Democratic Republic of the Congo Travel Warning" and "Ukraine Travel Warning".

Alerts and Warnings

Travel Warnings ⓘ

We issue a Travel Warning when we want you to consider very carefully whether you should go to a country at all. Examples of reasons for issuing a Travel Warning might include unstable government, civil war, ongoing intense crime or violence, or frequent terrorist attacks. We want you to know the risks of traveling to these places and to strongly consider not going to them at all. Travel Warnings remain in place until the situation changes; some have been in effect for years.

Travel Alerts ⚠

We issue a Travel Alert for short-term events we think you should know about when planning travel to a country. Examples of reasons for issuing a Travel Alert might include an election season that is bound to have many strikes, demonstrations, or disturbances; a health alert like an outbreak of H1N1; or evidence of an elevated risk of terrorist attacks. When these short-term events are over, we cancel the Travel Alert.

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

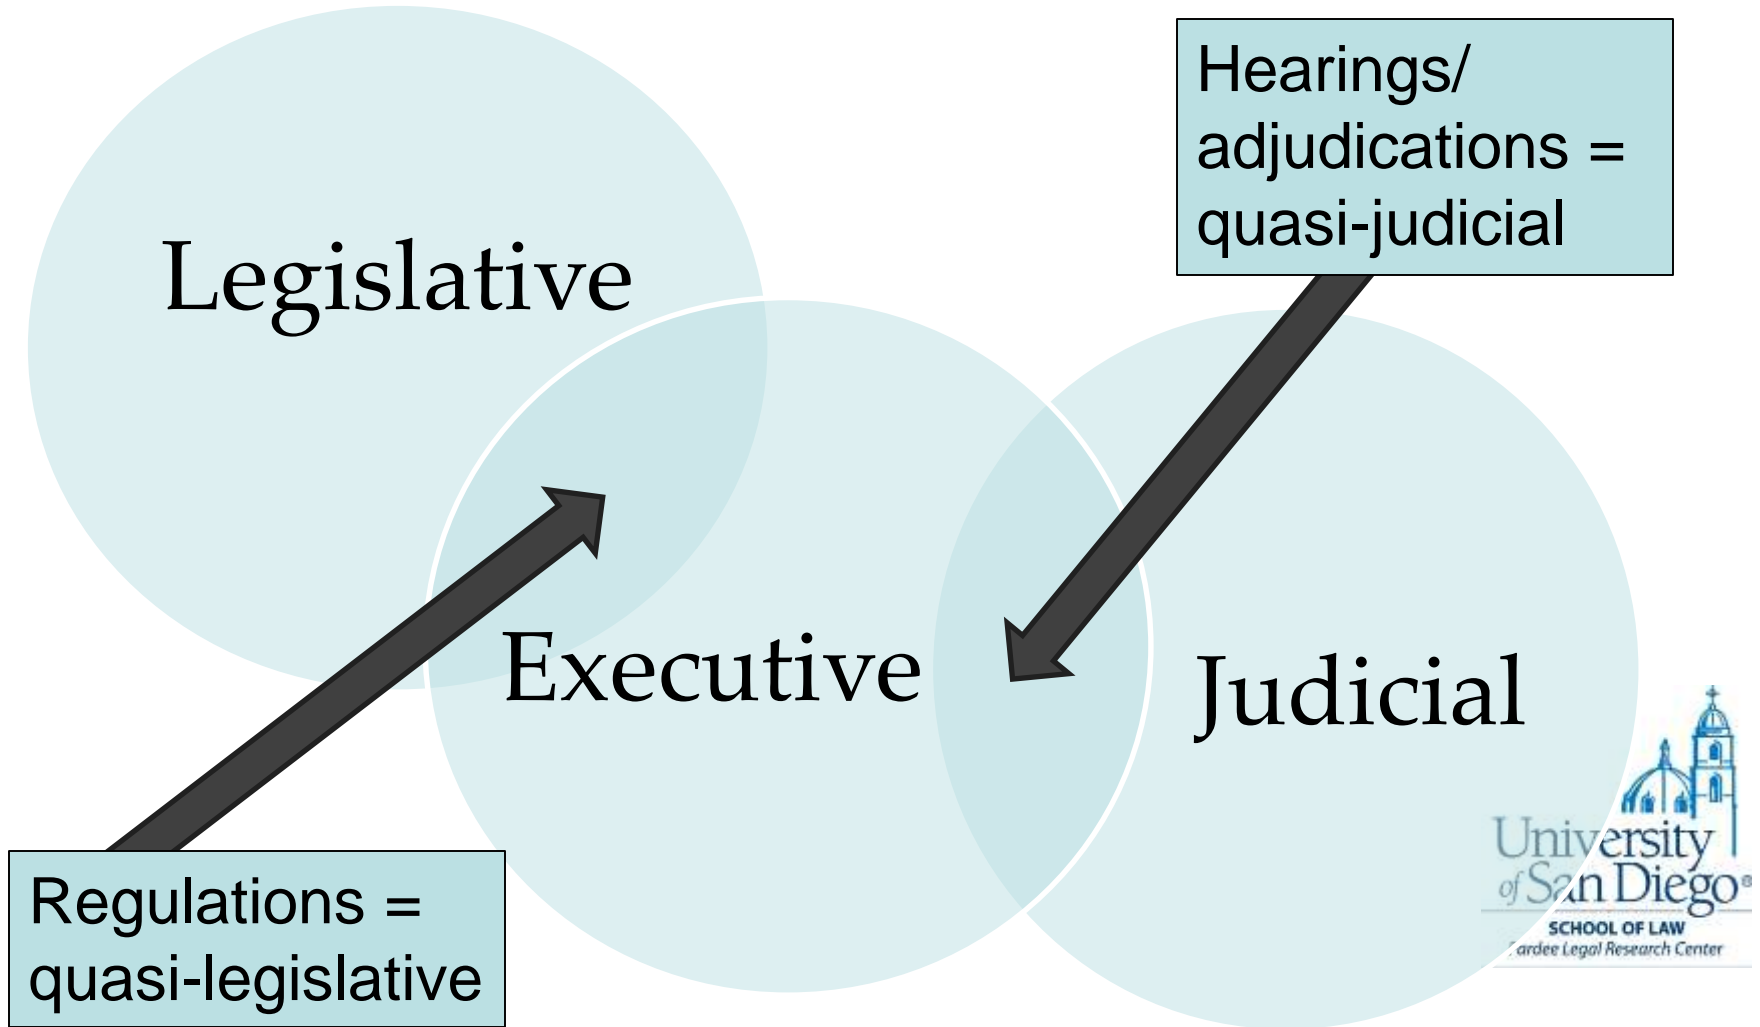

A note about administrative law...

- Legislature passes a law, giving the broad strokes and “enabling” a government agency to implement the law
- To implement the legislature’s intent, the agency typically will have to do 2 things:
 1. Promulgate regulations that provide more detailed rules & establish oversight processes;
 2. Enforce the law through those processes, including administrative hearings/adjudications
- These regulations & adjudications are generally referred to as “administrative law”
- Administrative law makes up a huge portion of “the law”
