English Open House

The English Department cordially invites you to our Open House! Please join us at the USD Writing Center (Founders 190B) on Thursday, October 27th, 1:00-2:00pm. Burritos will be served!

We invite all department faculty, staff, majors, minors, and prospective English majors and minors. Come learn about our community and our Spring 2017 course offerings.

Students: Bring questions for instructors about upcoming courses. Get information you need to make the right choices for you. Learn about the Alcalá Review, the Writing Center, Tudor Plays Project, internships, Sigma Tau Delta, and other opportunities offered by the department.

Faculty: Talk with students about your upcoming courses. Distribute course descriptions if you like. Reconnect with former students and meet prospective new students.

And of course enjoy the burritos! We will be serving burritos from JV's Mexican Food, plus sodas.

English MAJORS, MINORS & ALL INTERESTED STUDENTS!

The Lindsay J. Cropper Memorial Writers Series: Brad Melekian

Thursday, Nov 3, 6:00pm in Warren Auditorium, Mother Rosalie Hill Hall (SOLES): The Lindsay J. Cropper Memorial Writers Series with Brad Melekian.

The English Department welcomes its very own Brad Melekian to our final Cropper Series event of the Fall semester!

Brad Melekian's award-winning work appears in The New York Times, McSweeney's, ESPN, and Men's Journal, among others. Melekian currently serves as a Correspondent at Outside Magazine, a Senior Writer for Surfer, and a contributor to The Surfer's Journal. His first book, Breaking: Surfing After Andy Irons, is forthcoming from Farrar, Straus and Giroux, and his previous writing has earned him a National Magazine Award nomination.

Melekian holds a Master of Professional Writing from the University of Southern California, and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of San Diego, where he currently serves as Assistant Professor of English and Creative Writing. Professor Melekian teaches courses in Creative Writing, Creative Nonfiction, and assists with the Cropper Center for Creative Writing.

There is a dessert reception following the reading. Event is free and open to the public. We'll see you there!

Daylight Saving Time Ends

On Sunday, November 6, 2016, at 2:00am, Daylight Saving Time Ends. Be sure to set your clocks back one hour. Remember the saying "Fall back, Spring forward!"

Daylight saving time in the United States is the practice of setting the clock forward by one hour during the warmer part of the year, so that evenings have more daylight and mornings have less. Most areas of the United States observe daylight saving time, the exceptions being Arizona, Hawaii, and the overseas territories of American Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico and the United States Virgin Islands.

Student Volunteers Wanted!

The Volunteer Department at The Salvation Army is looking for community help. They have a community center in Clairemont, where they have a large population of seniors that attend their daily lunch program, many of whom speak Spanish. On Wednesdays from 12:00-1:00pm, they provide volunteer-led English classes for a small group of these seniors immediately after the lunch program, and they are currently looking for 1-2 volunteers to teach this class.

This is a great opportunity for students to become further involved in the local community. To lead this class, volunteers do not need prior teaching experience, just fluency in English and enthusiasm to help others. They will provide ongoing training and teaching materials.

For questions or more information, please contact Marcia Hunter, Volunteers Coordinator, at (619) 446-0226, or marcia.hunter@usw.salvationarmy.org. They thank you for your time and consideration.*

Internships for Credit

LMA Marketing/Advertising Offers English Major/Minor Internships

LMA Marketing & Advertising has joined with USD's English Department to establish a new internship partnership. LMA invites English Majors/Minors (seniors only) who can problem solve and show initiative and who can be creative and resourceful. Duties may include: writing radio copy, press releases, new-client proposals, and social media posts; proofreading and editing copy; researching information; performing daily administrative tasks; and, occasionally, attending glamorous PR events. Competitive applicants will have a knowledge of PowerPoint and Excel (very basic).

Applicants should be willing to devote 90-120 hours over the course of a semester to this assignment. Tip: It is recommended that you create a LinkedIn account before applying! To apply, email Daisy Vu at daisy@LMAworldwide.com with a cover letter and resume. Students who are accepted as interns should then contact Tim Randell (trandell@sandiego.edu) to register for acaademic credit.

Intern for a Local Political Campaign

Karina Velazquez, Campaign Coordinator for Ricardo Flores, invites English Majors/Minors to apply to work for Flores, who is running for San Diego City Council. Flores is one of three Democrats running for the District 9 council seat, for which no other political party is vying. The other candidates running for the council seat are Georgette Gomez and Sarah Saez.

Only Gomez also offers an internship within her campaign. To apply for the internship, contact the Flores Campaign at Campaign@FloresforCouncil.com or the Gomez campaign at info@gomezd9.com. (Although Saez does not advertise an internship program, you may volunteer to work on her campaigns but not for academic credit by calling (619) 786-5824). You can earn up to 1 unit of academic credit if you intern in a campaign for 30 hours or more. Students who are accepted as interns should then contact Tim Randell (trandell@sandiego.edu) to register for academic credit.

LARB/USC Publishing Workshop 2017

The Los Angeles Review of Books and the University of Southern California have launched a new summer publishing program that is designed to provide an immersive, five-week training designed to prepare students for the publishing world of the future. The new program, the Los Angeles Review of Books / USC Publishing Workshop, will have its inaugural session in summer 2017.

The program will be hosted on the USC campus and is open to rising juniors, seniors, and graduates from any college or university, nationally and internationally, interested in a career in publishing. LARB's first priority is to make the program available to all qualified applicants, regardless of their ability to pay. We are committed to not just training the publishing professionals of the future, but diversifying the industry. That begins by increasing access to programs like this.

During the summer in Los Angeles, students will work with the most forward-thinking people in the world of publishing and digital culture, gaining the training and experience they need to thrive in this competitive industry. Participants interested in new models for publishing will work together to produce a viable publication or proposal by the end of the Workshop, guided by our faculty and visitors and using the expertise they have developed.

More information on the program and application instructions are available here: www.thepublishingworkshop.com.

The Los Angeles Review of Books is a nonprofit, multimedia magazine of literature and culture that combines the great American tradition of the serious book review with the evolving technologies of the web. We are a community of writers, critics, journalists, artists, filmmakers, and scholars dedicated to promoting and disseminating the best that is thought and written, with an enduring commitment to the intellectual rigor, the incisiveness, and the power of the written word. Write to Publish flash fiction contest! This contest is open to all writers, but the submission must be original and can not have been previously published. What's more? The winner earns $50 and we are acting as judge and will publish the winning story on our site! More information at: <https://ooligan.pdx.edu/writetopublish/contests/>. Entry fee is $10 and deadline is October 31, 2016. *

Faculty & Staff News

Malachi Black, faculty, has been nominated for the 2017 Rome Prize. The Rome Prize in Literature is an extremely prestigious award, given to a small number of academics each year by the American Academy in Rome. On the strength of his recent collection of poems, Storm Towards Morning, Dr.

Black has been nominated for this important international honor. If he is selected, he will become a Fellow at the Academy, joining a group of scholars and artists living together on the Academy campus in Rome.

Congratulations Malachi! The English Department is very proud of your recognition.

Deniz Perin, faculty, is leaving USD on October 21st for a new job. She will be a full-time Vocational ESL instructor at the International Rescue Committee, mainly working with refugees to help them secure enough English skills to find work in their new home.

Deniz has been at USD since 2007, and started at the ELA (USD's English Language Academy) in 2012. We thank her for her years of service here at USD and wish her well in her new position! Best wishes, Deniz! You will be missed!

Faculty Milestones

We have several faculty reaching milestones at USD this year:

- Atreyee Phukan: 10 years
- Sister Mary Hotz: 20 years
- Fred Robinson: 25 years

Congratulations on this achievement! Thank you for all your years of service!

Faculty Conferences Attended

Marcelle Maese-Cohen, faculty, attended the Mujeres Activas en Letras y Cambio Social (MALCS) Summer Institute at the University of Wyoming held over August 3-6, 2016, where she presented her paper "Borderland Profundo: Rehearing Aztecas del Norte Through Flor Y Canto."

Ivan Ortiz, faculty, attended the North American Society for the Study of Romanticism (NASSR) conference in Berkeley, CA, over August 11-14, 2016, where he organized a panel "Romanticism and the Question Concerning Technology," delivered a paper, and also participated in a seminar "California Theory" by contributing a positioning paper.

New Writing Program Executive Assistant

We are pleased to announce that recent USD graduate, English major, and former Writing Center co-coordinator Miles Parnegg has agreed to become the Executive Assistant for the new Writing Program. Miles will draw from a broad knowledge base in program administration and writing at USD to assist the Writing Program as it grows. We feel fortunate to have Miles back in Founders Hall and look forward to working with him.

Alumni News

Piper Bloom, 2015, English major, has been promoted from Proofreader to Marketing Coordinator at Anderson Direct & Digital where she works. She is now managing Anderson's internal marketing, expanding their social media efforts, and creating plans for expanding into new sectors. Congrats, Piper!

English alumni: Send us your updates & photos! Please email to [English@san Diego.edu](mailto:English@san Diego.edu). We look forward to hearing from you. Thank you—
