This database provides access to art and architectural history scholarship by making newly-released and born-digital publications as well as key backlist and out-of-print titles on a wide variety of subjects more broadly available and more widely discoverable through deep tagging on images and text, a robust image search that directs users toward relevant publications, and an interactive online reader tailored for highly illustrated works. The platform also permits professors to create course packs for students. The collection includes content from other university and museum publishers (Yale University Press, Art Institute of Chicago, The MIT Press, Harvard Art Museums, Yale University Art Gallery).

Reliable sources

Evaluate sources for:

• Authority – author is identified, reputable, credentialed.

• Objectivity – fairness, lack of bias.

• Accuracy – provides references to sources, verifiable.

• Scope – relevant to your topic and argument.

• Currency – may vary by topic, but make sure you know the current state of thinking in your field (even if it’s rooted in older writings).

Girardi Keese partners for years were worried about indicted and disbarred attorney Thomas Girardi’s memory and told one of Girardi’s business associates, according to testimony Wednesday, though none reported those concerns to the State Bar of California. The concerns dated back to 2017, said Richard Kraemer, who runs trial presentation business Executive Presentations Inc., on the third day of Girardi’s competency.
