Legislative Research

Quick review

- Session laws: statutes enacted during a legislative session; compiled at end of each session
- Statutory codes: compilation and arrangement of those statutes by subject; constantly updated as new statutes add to or change prior law
- Federal and state
- Text, history, annotations, citators

Today's legislative research topics

- Local/municipal codes
- 50-state surveys
- Tracking pending legislation
- Historical statutes
- Legislative history

Local/Municipal Codes

Local/municipal codes

- Created by local governing bodies, e.g. County Board of Supervisors, City Council
- Various names: codes, ordinances, bylaws, measures
- Have the force and effect of law; can't conflict with state law

Sources of municipal codes

- No comprehensive source
- Lexis Advance includes some municipal codes (see e.g. California municipal codes here, but nothing for San Diego-area governments)
- Westlaw Edge includes only the New York City and Washington, D.C. codes
- Municipal code publishers: American Legal Publishing, Code Publishing Co., General Code, Municode, etc.
- Best approach: search the website of the municipality in question to find a link to its code

City of San Diego Municipal Code

Available on City of San Diego's website

The screenshot displays the City of San Diego's official website. At the top, a blue header bar contains the 'SAN DIEGO' logo, a weather widget showing 61°F, and a navigation menu with links for LEISURE, RESIDENT RESOURCES, DOING BUSINESS, LIBRARY, PUBLIC SAFETY, and CITY HALL. Below the header, the main content area is titled 'Municipal Code'. It features a search bar with the placeholder text 'What is the Municipal Code?' and a 'Find a Municipal Code:' section with a text input field and a 'Search' button. To the right of the search bar is a vertical list of 'Official City Documents' including the City Charter, Municipal Code, Council Policies, City Clerk Administrative Guidelines, Legal Opinions, Memoranda of Law, Reports to City Council, and Resolutions and Ordinances. Below the search bar, a section titled 'Municipal Code by Chapter' lists 11 chapters, each with a link to its respective page. A 'Feedback' button is visible on the right side of the page.

The screenshot displays the American Legal Publishing website interface. At the top, the logo for American Legal Publishing is visible on the left, and navigation links for Search, Login, Select Language, and Resources are on the right. The main content area is titled "San Diego County, California" and includes an overview of the county's administrative and regulatory codes. A left sidebar contains a list of links to various ordinance categories. The bottom of the page features a disclaimer and navigation buttons for "Back to Code Library", "Previous Doc", and "Next Doc".

San Diego County, California

Administrative: Current through Ord. No. 10771 (N.S.), effective 3-31-22 | Regulatory: Current through Ord. No. 10772 (N.S.), effective 4-1-22

San Diego County Board of Supervisors Policy Manual: Current through February 8, 2022

The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Diego are charged with the responsibility of establishing policy to guide the various functions of the County and, where necessary, to establish procedures by which functions are performed. Regulatory policies established by the Board usually are adopted by ordinance and included in the County Code of Regulatory Ordinances. Other policy matters are included by ordinance in the Administrative Code. However, a third group of policies are also established which by their nature do not require adoption by ordinance. Such policies, adopted by statement of action of the Board, need to be consolidated in a reference document for easy access. These policies make up the Board of Supervisors Policy Manual.

Please use the navigation menu on the left to browse policies. To search Board Policies, please click here.

50-State Surveys

50-state surveys

Manually collecting each state's law on a topic is time-consuming and difficult (variations in terminology and code structure).

Look for an existing compilation—even if incomplete or out of date, can save considerable time. May be found in various places:

- HeinOnline
- Westlaw and Lexis
- Secondary sources: law review articles, A.L.R. annotations, practice guides, etc.
- National Conference of State Legislatures
- Advocacy organizations often collect state statutes on topics of interest to them

50-state surveys: HeinOnline

National Survey of State Laws

Searchable and browsable database of 50-state surveys on more than 50 topics. Includes citations to and brief summaries of state laws.

Subject Compilations of State Laws

Searchable and browsable index of articles, books, current-awareness materials, websites, and more which include comparisons of state laws on more than 1,200 subjects. Includes direct links to materials which are also available on HeinOnline; may have to locate other materials elsewhere.

About Congressional Bills

Bills are legislative proposals. A bill might have numerous versions as it passes through both chambers of Congress.

Bill citations consist of the Congress number, the bill type (see definitions below) and then the number.

Example: 104 S. 652 is the 652nd bill introduced in the Senate in the 104th Congress.

There are eight different types of bills:

Bills

- H.R. – House Bill
- S. – Senate Bill

- PL115-397, The culmination of nearly two years of hearings and discussion, the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 Reform Act aims to strengthen sexual harassment protections for employees of the Federal government and extends those protections to interns and other unpaid employees of the legislative branch. The act further eliminates the mandatory "cooling off" period previously required before a victim could formally pursue a harassment complaint, requires that members of Congress be held personally liable for any settlement payments arising from sexual harassment complaints, and increases transparency in cases where settlements have been paid.

FEATURED LAW:

PL111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

Enacted March 23, 2010, PL111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act was the most comprehensive Federal reform of the U.S. healthcare system since the creation of the Medicare program nearly 35 years before. Viewed as the signature domestic policy achievement of the Obama administration and colloquially referred to as "Obamacare," after President Barack H. Obama, the act was passed following years of effort to address a variety of interrelated issues that were placing increasing strain on the nation's health care system. The result is a complex law with provisions addressing (among other things) precipitously rising healthcare costs, medical coverage for individuals with preexisting medical conditions, and the disproportionate costs of insuring young, healthy individuals in comparison to older individuals with more health problems.

Passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act was the culmination of a dizzyingly complex history of Congressional action aimed at reforming healthcare in the United States. The legislative history for PL111-148 brings this history together, allowing the researcher to track the development of these disparate initiatives over the years. Related bills, Congressional hearings, as well as numerous Congressional reports and debates recorded in the Congressional Record are all aggregated to track the process of enacting this complex legislation.

The legislative process varies widely among states; fewer materials are generated than at the federal level, and they typically are more difficult to locate. Materials related to recent legislation are often easier to find; consult a reference librarian for assistance.

Researching Administrative Law

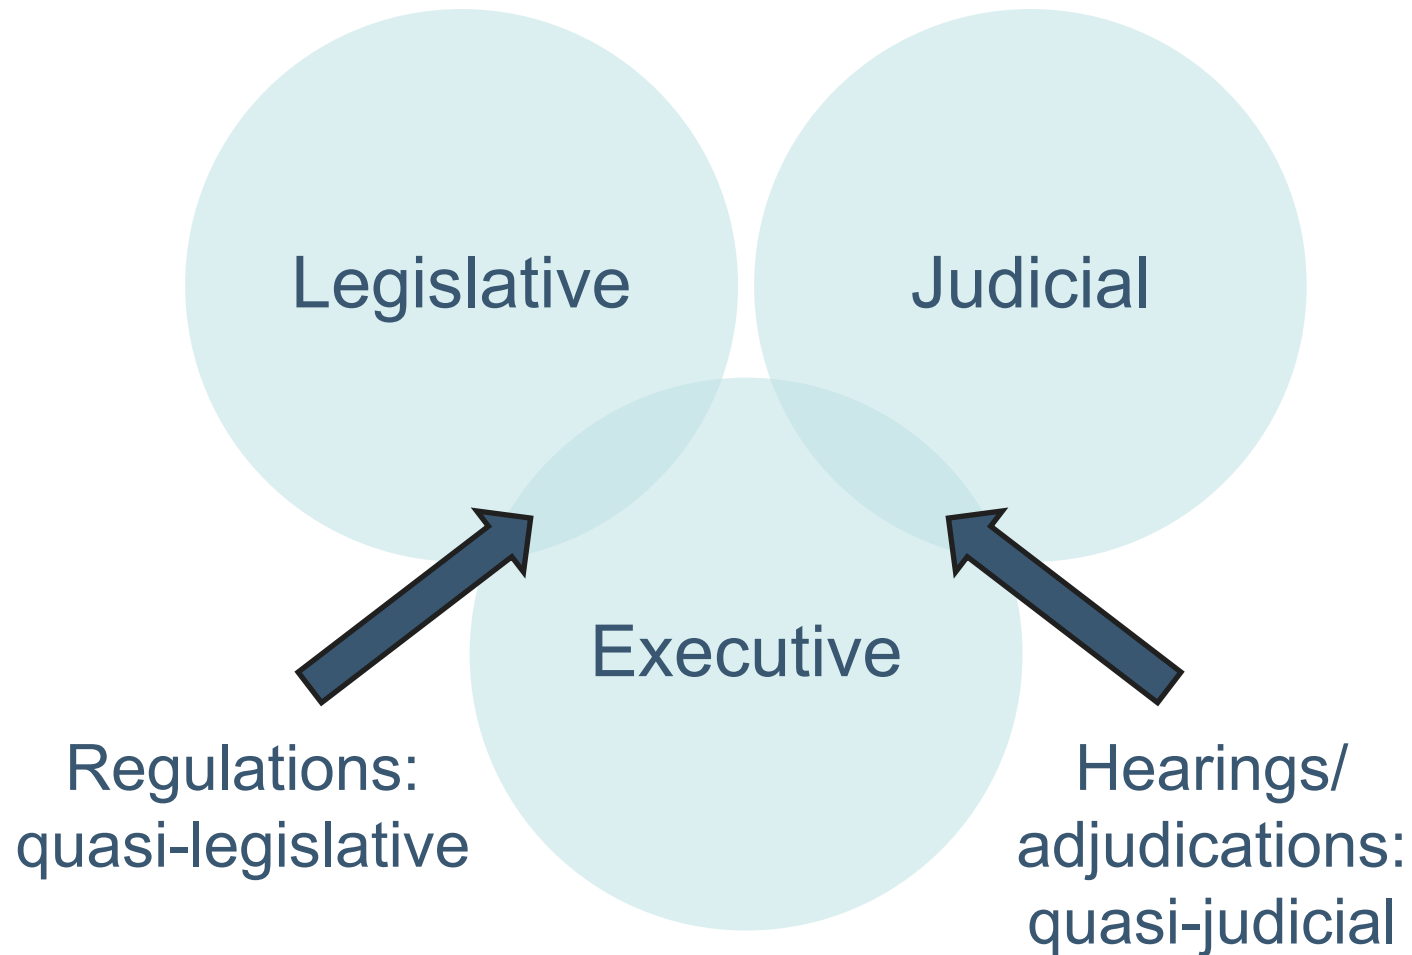

What is administrative law?

The law that governs the creation/operation of administrative agencies and the law that such agencies create.

Agencies create law in two ways:

1. Regulations
2. Agency adjudications

Administrative Law

How agencies are created

Legislature passes a law, giving the broad strokes and “enabling” a government agency to implement the law

To implement the legislature’s intent, the agency typically will have to do two things:

1. Promulgate regulations that provide more detailed rules and establish oversight processes;
2. Enforce the law through those processes, including administrative hearings/adjudications

Regulations

Promulgation of regulations

Strict rules about what the agency must do (simplified):

1. Agency drafts and publishes proposed regulations in the Federal Register (Fed. Reg.)
2. Opportunity for public comment
3. Agency reviews comments, drafts and publishes final version in Fed. Reg.
4. Codify the final regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.)

Code of Federal Regulations (Annual Edition)

HELP

About the Code of Federal Regulations

The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) annual edition is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the departments and agencies of the Federal Government. It is divided into 50 titles that represent broad areas subject to Federal regulation. The 50 subject matter titles contain one or more individual volumes, which are updated once each calendar year, on a staggered basis. The annual update cycle is as follows: titles 1-16 are revised as of January 1; titles 17-27 are revised as of April 1; titles 28-41 are revised as of July 1; and titles 42-50 are revised as of October 1. Each title is divided into chapters, which usually bear the name of the issuing agency. Each chapter is further subdivided into parts that cover specific regulatory areas. Large parts may be subdivided into subparts. All parts are organized in sections, and most citations to the CFR refer to material at the section level. Read More

Guidance documents

- Some agencies put out informal documents that lay out current thinking on issues
- Avoids strict requirements for promulgating regulations
- Not legally binding, but can be a good indicator of an agency's position
- May not be formally published—look on agency's website

Agency Adjudications

Administrative adjudications

- Differs widely among agencies
 - Informal/formal
 - Bind only parties/precedential effect
 - Whether and how they're published
- Agency websites are often a good place to start
 - Westlaw, Lexis, Bloomberg Law and other specialty databases have selected agency adjudications
 - HeinOnline has historical agency materials

Formal adjudications

- Look a lot like court cases
- Agency hearing (similar to trial)
- Conducted by administrative law judge (ALJ) (similar to trial court judge)
- Can be appealed up to a higher authority within the agency
- Once administrative remedies are exhausted, often can file suit in court

Informal adjudications

- Advice letters
- Attorney General opinions
- Advisory guidance
