

Bryan Grissinger '12 (MSRE)
Principal
Frontera Real Estate

As the principal and co-founder of Frontera Real Estate, Bryan's experience spans several aspects of commercial real estate, including acquisitions, development, operations, design and construction. He has worked in multiple asset classes, including multifamily, self-storage, retail and office. Since Frontera was formed in 2015, Bryan has overseen the management of a portfolio of self-storage properties and has been engaged in every aspect of the business, from day-to-day operations to the acquisition and development of new assets.

Before forming Frontera Real Estate Investments, Bryan was the director of acquisitions and development for a privately held real estate owner, investor and developer with over $4 billion in assets. Bryan managed a commercial portfolio including roughly 750,000 square feet of retail, office and self-storage assets. He was also responsible for new acquisitions and entitlements of self-storage assets and land development opportunities. Previously, Bryan was a pre-construction and project manager for a national general contractor based in Chicago.

Bryan earned his Master of Science in Real Estate from the University of San Diego and his bachelor's in architecture with a concentration in business administration from the University of Notre Dame. He is involved with several local organizations in San Diego, including the Holiday Bowl Committee, which puts on the Holiday Bowl college football game in San Diego each year. He was a member of the Notre Dame boxing club and competed as an amateur boxer for several years. He spends much of his free time traveling with his wife and two children.
